USES AND DISCLOSURES

How we may use and disclose medical information about you:

The following categories describe examples of the way we use and disclose medical information:

FOR TREATMENT: We may use medical information about you to provide you treatment or services. We may disclose medical information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, or other facility personnel who are involved in taking care of you at MCHC. For example: a doctor treating you for an injury may need to know if you have diabetes, because diabetes may slow the healing process, or if your doctor orders physical therapy, the nursing staff will need to discuss your care and treatment with the physical therapist. Different departments of MCHC also may share medical information about you in order to coordinate the different things you may need, such as prescriptions, lab work, meals, and x-rays.

We may also provide your physician or a subsequent healthcare provider with copies of various reports that should assist him or her in treating you once you are discharged from MCHC.

FOR PAYMENT: We may use and disclose medical information about your treatment and services to bill and collect payment from you, your insurance company, or a third party payer. For example: we may need to give your insurance company information about your surgery so they will pay us or reimburse you for the treatment. We may also tell your health plan about treatment you are going to receive to determine whether your plan will cover it.

FOR HEALTHCARE OPERATIONS: Members of the medical staff and/or quality improvement team may use information in your health record to assess the care and outcomes in your case and others like it. The results will then be used to continually improve the quality of care for all patients/residents we serve. For example: we may combine medical information about many patients/residents to evaluate the need for new services, treatment, or equipment. We may disclose information to doctors, nurses, and other students for educational purposes.

We may also use and disclose medical information:

- To business associates we have contracted with to perform the agreed upon service and billing for it;
- To assess your satisfaction with our services;
- For population based activities related to improving healthcare or reducing healthcare costs;
- For conducting training programs and reviewing competence of healthcare professionals.

BUSINESS ASSOCIATES: There are some services provided in our organization through contracts with business associates. Examples may include physician services in the emergency department and radiology, or certain outside laboratories. When these services are contracted, we may disclose your health information to our business associate so that they can perform the job we have asked them to do and bill you or your third party for services rendered. To protect your health information, however, we require the business associate to appropriately safeguard your information.

INDIVIDUALS INVOLVED IN YOUR CARE OR PAYMENT FOR YOUR CARE: We may release medical information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your medical care or who helps pay for your care. In addition, we may disclose medical information about you to an entity assisting in disaster relief so that your family can be notified about your condition, status, or location.

RESEARCH: We may disclose information to researchers when an institutional review board that has reviewed the research proposal and established protocols to ensure the privacy of your health information has approved their research.

FUTURE COMMUNICATIONS: We may communicate to you via newsletters, mail outs, or other means regarding treatment options, health related information, disease-management programs, wellness programs, or other community-based initiatives or activities our facility is participating in.

ORGANIZED HEALTHCARE ARRANGEMENT: This facility and its medical staff members have organized and are presenting you this document as a joint notice. Information will be shared as necessary to carry out treatment, payment, and healthcare operations. Physicians and caregivers may have access to protected health information in their offices to assist in reviewing past treatment as it may affect treatment at the time.

AFFILIATED COVERED ENTITY: Protected health information will be made available to your physician as necessary to carry out treatment, payment, and healthcare operations.

AS REQUIRED BY LAW:

Funeral Directors: We may disclose health information to funeral directors consistent with applicable law to carry out their duties.

Organ Procurement Organizations: Consistent with applicable law, we may disclose health information to organ procurement organizations or other entities engaged in the procurement, banking, or transplantation of organs for the purpose of tissue donation and transplant.

Food and Drug Administration (FDA): We may disclose to the FDA health information relative to adverse events with respect to food, supplements, product and product defects or post marketing surveillance information to enable product recalls, repairs, or replacement.

Workers Compensation: We may disclose health information to the extent necessary to comply with laws relating to workers compensation or other similar programs established by law.

Public Health: As required by law, we may disclose your health information to public health or legal authorities charged with preventing or controlling disease, injury, or disability.

Correctional Institution: Should you be an inmate of a correctional institution, we may disclose to the institution or agents thereof, health information necessary for your health, and the health and safety of other individuals.

Law Enforcement: We may disclose health information for law enforcement purposes as required by law, or in response to a valid subpoena.

Federal law makes provisions for your health information to be released to an appropriate health oversight agency, public health authority, or attorney provided that a workforce member or business associate believes in good faith that we have engaged in unlawful conduct or have otherwise violated professional or clinical standards and are potentially endangering one or more patients, residents, workers, or the public.
